

Individual Transport Training Packages – Children (11-13 years)

- Does your child need to learn to catch the bus/train to school or activities?
- Would your child like to learn to be more independent?

Supporting your child’s goal for developing their independence is an important aspect of growth and creating a meaningful life. To assist in this, we have designed a Transport Training package specifically for children aged 11-13 years with a diagnosis of Autism Spectrum Disorder, or mental health diagnosis (including anxiety).

These packages can be used purchased at any time, or can be used as a guide for planning your child’s supports when attending NDIS planning conversations or reviews. Packages can be negotiated to ensure they fit the needs of your child and your family.

Included in each package:

- Individualised support from a qualified community support worker (Cert 3 in Individual Support – disability, or higher)
- Respect and transparency in the care your child will receive, with a focus on safety, problem solving, supporting your child to learn new skills; and having fun!
